OUR NEW YORK LETTER

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, Nov 4, 1867.

"THE CRUSH OF MATTER AND THE WRECK OF WORLDS."

About once in every quarter of a century, for the last thousand years, some self-heralded apostle of ill omen has arisen in some part of the Christian world, announcing himself as the harbinger of a dread millennium, figuring up by his own new system of calculation, the "times and half times," the "thousand years as one day and one day as a thousand years," the "seven heads and ten horns," and all the other cabalistic dates and numbers of Daniel and Revelations, announcing to poor frightened mortals that he had found out just the unerring method for calculating to a dot, the year, the month and the day, when this mundane sphere should finally be wound up for the last time, rolled away as a scroll, puffed into mere smoke and ashes;—drawing after him a train of deluded followers, to be beggared and bamboozled for a season, or so long as the sensation would last.

The last great occasion of this sort of fellows, was in 1843, when one Miller, in Vermont, announced the day of final reckoning to be on or about the 26th of April of that year. Miller figured his epoch too late by twenty six days, or he might have produced a blaze of glory.

The latest appearance of this kind is the appearance in this city of a decidedly talented and pleasing preacher by the name of "S S Snow, the Apostle,"—as he calls himself—who claims to have in his person the spirit of Saint John, the Baptist, and who, every Sunday holds forth to a small congregation, composed about equally of faithful believers and curiosity seekers.

Snow declares emphatically that he is fully commissioned and authorized to state to all the dwellers of this planet that this little game will positively be wound up in the summer of 1868, and possibly earlier, if Garibaldi succeeds in driving the Pope out of Rome.

The indifference that is manifested by the cosmopolitan population of New York to this venerable looking apostle, Mr. Snow, and to the charts and diagrams wherein he demonstrates his problem, appears in the fact that he only draws a house of about thirty believers, once or twice a week, while the theaters and places of public amusement draw every night save Sunday, and two afternoon matinees in each week, more than six thousand spectators.

THEATERS AND CHURCHES.

The Rev. Dr. Lyman Beecher, the father of Henry Ward Beecher and Harriet Beecher Stowe, once predicted that all the theaters in Boston would in a few years be converted into churches.

His prediction in New York would become more nearly being reversed, for there are at this time in this city no less than five popular places of amusement that were recently occupied as churches, and two or three more are about to undergo a like metamorphose. His daughter's novel, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," has been dramatised and represented on the stage of more American theaters than almost any play that can be named. Each season it is revived on some New York boards, and always fills the house with a long run. His son's novel, "Norwood," for which Bonner, of the Ledger, pays him about fifteen thousand dollars, is about to be dramatised, and will be represented on the stage before it is completed in book form.

Every stranger from the old world visiting New York for the first time, is astonished at nothing more than at the liberal patronage which all the places of amusement are receiving from the public here. Even a Californian or a Webfoot stranger, whom nothing in the way of a fun and a crowd is expected to surprise, will have his astonishment aroused at a sight of "Ristori," "Joe Jefferson," the "Black Crook" or the "Devil's Auction," and the rush that follows them all.

The clergy are compelled to admit that in the way of crowds the churches cannot compete with theatres. The total number of churches in New York is about 370, and among these 73 are Protestant Episcopal, 73 Presbyterian, 52 Methodist, 44 Baptist, 35 Catholic, and 30 Jewish. The number of clergymen of all denominations is a little more than 600. The total number of communicants is stated at 72,000, among the Protestants, and 90,000 among the Catholics. The population of this city is about 1,000,000, and it is estimated that more than two thirds of these never attend any church. The number of Sunday Schools is 365—same as the number of days in the year—and the membership, as shown by the rolls, is 106,000.

The value of church property is now over twenty millions of dollars, and the annual salaries of the clergymen foot up to nearly one million. The great Catholic cathedral, begun several years ago by Archbishop Hughes, to be built of the pure American marble, and which when completed will be the most imposing edifice in America, is now steadily progressing, the massive marble walls being about twenty feet in hight above the water-table.

On Fifth Avenue, in the most aristocratic quarter of the city, is rapidly rising to completion an elegant Jewish Synagogue, built of New Jersey red sandstone and Ohio light freestone, which will be the largest and most costly Hebrew Temple in America.

Many Protestant churches have also caught the spirit of improvement, and are erecting magnificent temples of worship in various parts of the city.

But we began the letter, intending to discourse about theatres and amusements, so let us return to music and the drama.

Since the fall season opened, there is scarcely one place of amusement that does not exhibit on its treasurer's account a large increase over former seasons. Houses crowded to uncomfortable jams; applause most enthusiastic; boquets in perfect showers, and baskets of rare flowers, making the stage look like a garden; managers rubbing their hands with utmost delight, everybody, his wife sweetheart, family, children, babies and poodles, all happy as a lark. To enable the readers of the OREGONIAN to judge of the actual revival, just look at the following list of places of amusement:

Academy of Music,
French Theatre,
Banvard's Opera House,
New York Theatre,
Fifth Avenue Theatre,
Eighth Av. Opera House,
American Theatre,
Broadway Theatre,
Theatre Comique,
San Francisco Minstrels,
Dodworth's Hall,
New York Circus.
Steinway Hall,
Niblo's Garden,
Wallack's Theatre,
Irving Hall,
Olympic Theatre,
Bowery Theatre,
Stadt Theatre,
Kelly & Leon's Minstrels,
Tony Pastor's Opera House,
Bunyan Tableaux,
Barnum's Museum,
Sam Sharpley's Minstrels

In addition to these, a magnificent opera house of Mr Pike from Cincinnati, will be completed before the winter season is closed, and duly dedicated to the highest order of music and the drama. And the foundations of Booth's new theatre, located in the heart of the grand metropolis, to be entirely devoted to the true classic drama, has been commenced.

It would be a curious array of figures, if we could fully estimate the amount of money expended every night by the amusement-goers of the metropolis. The average receipts of these theaters range from two hundred and fifty to fifteen hundred dollars each per night, and considering that carriage, supper and other expenses incurred by a large portion of these patrons, will amount to as much more, it may be seen how large a sum is annually expended at places of amusement in this city.

We have had Madame Ristori, the peerless Queen of the Italian drama, and her admirable company again. She has just given us a short adieu, to perform in other cities, when another bright particular star bursts its happy rays of light and glory on us. This time it is a Miss Fanny Janauschek (Phœbus! what a name!) the tragic Queen of Germany. In music, we still have Parepa, a prodigy of melody, as she is of person, wherever she opens her rich mouth in song, there flows forth from her two hundred and forty avordupois body, a perfect flood of exquisite sounds, deluging the senses of all her listeners in a most heavenly harmony. Parepa is a woman, and not an angel, though, as shown by the fact that she has married a little musical man, (small in inches, not in music) Carl Rosa, by name, who only weighs about one third as much as herself. Next season you may have the pleasure of hearing her on the Pacific, as she has engaged to go to San Francisco. If she can be induced to visit Portland, don't fail to hear her.

Besides the theaters, the minstrels, the museums and the circus, there are in New York a large class of cheap amusements, for which no entrance fee is demanded. Elaborate halls and gardens, all along the Bowery, the avenues, and Broadway, some with stages, scenery and performances, which anybody can see without buying a ticket. It is only expected that each visitor shall "order something." In the midst of a din created by shuffling waiters, clinking glasses, scraping feet, mugs rapping on the tables, orders bawled out of cast iron lungs, an orchestra of most persevering musicians perform "selections" from all the favorite operas, or women appear on a music stage and dance through fogs of tobacco smoke that roll breast thick around them.

THE LEG MANIA.

Of all the various sorts of amusements that human ingenuity has been able to devise, of classic drama, opera, burlesque drama, tragedy, comedy, minstrelsy, tableaux, concerts, pantomimes, acrobatic feats, circus riding, monkey organs, trained canaries, learned pigs, Japanese jugglers, etcetera, etcetera, nothing begins to compare in fascination and ecstasy, with the ballet or the leg drama. Female beauty is the magnet that draws the world. It brought down Adam from his first estate, it despoiled Samson of his greatest honor, it made the Roman Anthony yield like a puny boy, it turned the tide of empire upon Troy, poets and philosophers, statesmen and divines in all ages, and in all climes, have done it reverence.

We pity the man who does not admire, love and worship beauty in women. Dancing is the poetry of motion, the "Black Crook" and the "Devil's Auction" are brim full of just such poetry; gushing out and running over with loveliness.

Many of the readers of the OREGONIAN have seen, and all have heard of the first named ballet. For more than four hundred nights it has continued in its triumphal career to fill the large orchestra, parquet and galleries of Niblo's Garden, until more than one million of persons have gazed upon the many labyrinths of its gorgeous transformation scenes, and been delighted and astonished at the aerial dancing of Mademoiselle Marie Bonfanti.

But as Flora Temple, once gem of the turf, by having beaten all horse flesh before her, was bound in turn to yield the honors of speed to coming Dexter, wherefore should there be a limit fixed to muscle, symmetry and agility of motion in women.

The "Devil's Auction"—that rather unpropitious title of a play at Banvard's new Museum and Opera House, is only the name of a dull and tedious three act farce, which serves as the plot for introducing upon the stage, a Grand European Ballet Company, containing among its troupe, a half dozen of the most celebrated premieres danseuses in the world.

Here is one from Italy, two from Spain—one from Germany—one from Austria, and one from France. Their very names are as full of music and poetry and motion as their feet:

Guiseppina Morlacchi, Elise Blasina, Augusta Sohlke, Ermesilda Diani, Eugenia Lupo, Aurelia Ricci.

The dramatic and musical critic of one of the first public journals of the city—a paper that among the religious portion of the people of America, has a larger circulation than any other New York daily, has been to see the "Devil's Auction," and was carried into extacies at the display. Read what he says. Many Oregonians take the paper, but so good a thing should not escape their observation:

Blasina, Lupo, Sohlke, Lapointe, Diani and Aurelia Ricci—they are all brilliant luminaries. To see these delicate creatures dance is to enjoy the [illegible] of beholding lovely women in all sorts of lovely attitudes now erect upon the great toe, now horizontal in mid air, like a swallow skimming a field of clover; now whirling like a comet and sparkling like some living opal and now in moments of sudden repose, like [illegible] fresh water, frozen in the act of falling. * * Panting thought toils in vain after the agile beauties of the Ballet. They are too much for our humble intelligence. We retire in confusion before all the lustre of spangle and multiplicity of limb. It would be worse than useless, under the circumstances, to attempt to describe it. Attention last night was centered—if we may use the word slipping so much bewilderment—upon Mlle. Giuseppina Morlacchi, the new dancer. It was her first appearance. She had long been heralded, and she had been eagerly expected. Her entrance last evening in the first act of "The Devil's Auction," was the signal for a spontaneous outburst of that noble enthusiasm which naturally awaits the manly bosom at sight of a beautiful creature flashing in upon her lovely legs. Mlle. Morlacchi is a beautiful creature and she came upon the stage like a sudden ray of light. Embodied poetry is Mlle. Morlacchi. There is a certain sweet gravity in her face, which betokens feeling; a certain precision of [illegible] ed in her style that betokens thought. These indications of character commended her strongly to critical approbation. We did not observe any especial originality in her steps; but every woman is original, whatsoever—naturally. Nature has provided for infinite variety in that form of creation. There are millions of pairs of blue eyes, but every pair has a charm of its own. When we say then, that Mlle. Morlacchi's dancing is characteristic of herself we say enough. She is of the spirit [illegible] of women, small, delicate, fiery, with a [illegible] and a luminous face, and she dances with all her soul as well as her body.

THE WATER SUPPLY IN NEW YORK.

How the million people of this great metropolis are daily furnished, both winter and summer with a never failing supply of pure water; how the Fire Department, with its scores of steam fire engines, is always able to draw upon its average daily allowance of two hundred thousand gallons; how hotels, factories, laundries and bathing establishments can make their unstinted daily use and larger waste of the aqueous fluid, may be a not uninteresting theme for a portion of this letter.

Among the modern miracles which have made the nineteenth century signal in the world's history, there is, perhaps, no one of greater practical value to cities than these triumphs of engineering skill which bring to the very door an abundant supply of pure, cool, healthy, pleasant, limpid fountain of this, one of God's best gifts to men.

The population of New York are furnished with over sixty gallons per day for each consumer, a supply greater than is given to London or Paris, each with a population larger than this. It is pleasant in a great city to know that the sources of supply are ample for all present as well as prospective demands, and the mind of no man can realize what distress and agony would follow a total or even a partial failure of this most necessary element. Yet tens of thousands of our citizens, born and reared here, never think, perhaps do not even know, how and whence comes this never failing supply. They are like the swine that eat the acorns falling from the great oak above them, and do not know the wind which shakes down the rich harvest under their feet.

Forty miles from the city, in Putnam county, lies the valley of a small river, which receives the drainage or water shed from an area of about 340 square miles. A dam thrown across this Croton river, 38 feet high and about 700 feet long, forms a fountain reservoir, or Croton Lake, as it is generally called, which sets the water back six miles. From this reservoir or lake to the city, has been constructed a great aqueduct, a magnificent specimen of engineering skill and solid masonry, crossing farms, piercing hills, spanning ravines and over one great river. The medium flow of water in the Croton, where the fountain is formed, exceeds fifty millions of gallons per day. The available capacity of the reservoir is estimated by thousands of millions of gallons, and in Central Park, within the city limits, is a grand receiving reservoir, which has a capacity of 1,030,000,000 gallons, that is always to be kept full. Besides this there are three distributing reservoirs of from 20,000,000 to 150,000,000 gallons each.

Another dam, 64 feet high, is in course of construction in Putnam county, to form an auxiliary reservoir, with a capacity of 3,400,000,000 gallons of water.

It is estimated that the waste of Croton water in this city is double the quantity actually used by all the citizens. There is no excuse for any person going around unclean in this metropolis, and yet there are thousands here who live from year to year more filthy and dirty than Digger Indians.

ARRIVAL OF OREGONIANS.

The steamer Henry Chauncey, Captain Gray, from Aspinwall October 23d, arrived at this port yesterday morning, with passengers and mails which left San Francisco October 10th. She brought $516,000 treasure, and among the passengers we met Hon R. Mallory, Member of Congress from Oregon, with his wife and child, also, Mr Shipley from Clackamas county of your State.

"FLAT ROCK" NEAR HOME.

Some returned old California miner, has raised an excitement about rich quartz discovered in Dutchess county in this State, and may succeed in "raising the wind" out of the pockets of certain wealthy gentlemen who are buying up farms for taking [illegible] in the vicinity of the spot, where the rich rock has been found. Three or four tons have been taken out of a ten foot ledge, brought to this city and crushed, and is reported to have yielded over $180 gold per ton. The spot is near the eastern bank of the Hudson river, and the company of gold seekers expect to work the mine which lies high up in the bluffs, by sending the rock down long shutes to the decks of boats and barges in the river, and thence transport it to mills in the city. If that mine don't prove a long one to the enthusiastic and excited stockholders, we loose our guess. "Fools are not all dead yet."

Another fellow has recently done some wealthy citizens of Burlington, Vermont, out of about $250,000 by selling stock in most marvellous rich gold discoveries in Rensselaer county in this State. Upon a certain farm where there was an out-cropping of many white quartz veins, he discovered large quantities of gold-bearing specimens; the surface indications were magnificent; beautiful specimens of quartz rock holding much free gold was picked up from the surface, and by digging down from five to ten feet, the veins grew so rich that the new El Dorado promised to [illegible] Grass Valley. Of course the whole matter was for a time kept a profound secret from all but those invited to invest. Eminent and worthy geologists and reliable inspectors, who, by the way, never before saw a gold quartz mine, were sent out to examine the property; all returned [illegible] with rich, [illegible] rich [illegible] of the genuineness and great value of the discovery. [illegible] were more than satisfactory, and to the [illegible] lons, many gold nuggets [illegible] out of crevices in the rock by the geologist and inspector were shown to the stockholders. About $200,000 was paid for shares in the mines and over $40,000 working capital [illegible] and put into the hands of the lucky discoverer with which to purchase machinery to work the mine. About [illegible] weeks ago, this gentleman came to New York and as nothing has since been heard of him, it is probable that not finding any suitable machinery in this city, he has gone to California to [illegible] the most approved sort of [illegible]. If he should [illegible] to visit the [illegible] and want to pay for [illegible] with the [illegible] company, please [illegible] for the [illegible] Gibbs, McCully, Teal, [illegible] stockholders in the [illegible] that the [illegible] has "petered out," and oblige.

TUESDAY MORNING, DECEMBER [illegible] 1867

Presidential

There is no mistaking the drift of the popular sentiment on the subject of the next Presidency. The latest Eastern journals received render it evident that there is an unprecedented uprising in favor of General Grant. It is said that more than nineteen twentieths of all the Republican papers in the country have declared for him in positive terms, and not one, so far as known, has spoken against him. The New York Tribune has indeed declared for Chase as its first choice, but the current is so strong in favor of Grant that even that paper does not venture to speak openly against the man who is so clearly the choice of the people. To an innuendo against Grant which it published some time ago, the Cincinnati Gazette makes the following reply:

> We do not forget that last spring when Mr. Greeley was sowing discord in the party, and conservative Republicans were, in consideration of public patronage, playing into the hands of Andrew Johnson, Grant stood side by side with Stanton, pointed out danger ahead and urged upon Congress to hold a mid summer session. The wisdom of that policy has been made apparent. It would have been still better if Congress had remained in session. We may also remark that public men in whom the loyal people have confidence, and whose Radicalism no one doubts, are satisfied that General Grant is true to the principles of the Republican party, including impartial suffrage, and that he fully [illegible] the Congressional plan of reconstruction.

The New York Times devotes a long article to the subject, in the course of which it is remarked:

> No one can doubt, or fail to see, that the sentiment of the whole country points to Grant as that man. A vast majority of all the Republican journals and politicians of the country, look upon his nomination as an absolute certainty.

The Cleveland (Ohio) Herald, like most of the leading journals of that State, speaks plainly. It says:

> General Grant having become the recognized candidate of the Republican party, becomes also, as a matter of course, the target for Democratic misrepresentation and slander. He has already been assailed to break his [illegible] by a [illegible] of two calumnious reports, one to the effect that he had given testimony before the Impeachment Committee, hostile to the [illegible] plan of Congress, and the other that he had [illegible] himself much pleased with the result of the recent [illegible]. The public may expect a daily flight of [illegible] at General Grant's fair fame, from now until November of next year.

The Toledo Commercial says that "with the Republican masses Grant is the favorite, and he is already practically their nominee." We quote [illegible]:

> With Grant as the Republican candidate for the Presidency, the opposition party sinks at once political[ly] by its own [illegible], and will be utterly unable effectively to stay the [illegible] of the popular voice and vote, the latter of which will roll up its hundreds of thousands majority, [illegible] and the mis-called [illegible] of to-day.

The Pittsburgh Commercial, noticing the [illegible] for Grant, says:

> Were we to print all that is said in favor of Grant for the Presidency, or even a list of the papers and public men that have declared for him, we would encroach [illegible]. It is a fact to be noted, that while [illegible] papers have [illegible] for Grant, the N. Y. [illegible] is the only [illegible] comes out for [illegible] it did it only after a [illegible].

The Albany (N. Y.) Journal quotes the axiomatic [illegible] of General Grant that "this is a Republic [illegible] the will of the people is the law of the land," and [illegible] on it as follows:

> The [illegible] "the people" has [illegible] that Grant shall be the next President of the United States, and [illegible] shall arise, this may [illegible] the "law of the land." The politicians are [illegible] the fact.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is a paper which is [illegible] for its good judgment and its freedom from all [illegible]. Alluding to the tone of the press in favor of Grant, it says:

> [illegible] come from all quarters. The only note of [illegible] by the New York Tribune, and that is not [illegible] ... [illegible] who may be [illegible], but if [illegible] it shall be [illegible] the [illegible] not a [illegible] is that Gen. [illegible] is not true to [illegible] This is in the face of all his [illegible] and [illegible] is no [illegible] of him.

The Pittsburgh G[illegible] has an exceedingly strong [illegible] in favor of Grant, from which we extract as follows:

> [illegible] not so [illegible] from what Gen. Grant has said as from what he has done. He is a man not given to [illegible]. He is [illegible] of [illegible]. What he has done is not [illegible] in rhetorical phrases, or any form of [illegible]. His [illegible] has to be interpreted and [illegible]. In these he has given eminent [illegible] is saved the [illegible] by [illegible] (that his course as Military [illegible] of the district [illegible] and [illegible] was not only [illegible] but [illegible] by Gen. Grant. [illegible] with whatever [illegible] of Gen. [illegible] a flood of light on [illegible] ... with him at the head [illegible] no further [illegible] done, but steady and [illegible] that shall [illegible] the ends of [illegible] in one heart and one mind for the [illegible].

[illegible] in a late [illegible] by him to a late [illegible] at the [illegible], says: "I have not doubt that the illustrious hero, who is true to the cause of equal rights, and [illegible] to the [illegible] of patriots, will be the [illegible] leader of the Republican [illegible] in the coming contest."

ONE OF THE CAUSES.—After the Ohio election Vallandigham, the Democratic apostle, made a speech in which he said that the "currency and [illegible] were [illegible] issue." He also made the following declaration:

> [illegible] my own [illegible] the State, I am [illegible] that there [illegible] more in securing to the [illegible] even the great question of negro suffrage.

The St. Louis Democrat remarking upon the [illegible] says:

> There can be no doubt that a powerful [illegible] of the [illegible] is the general dissatisfaction with the [illegible].

[illegible] who may be temporarily misled by the knaves and fools who talk about tax [illegible] hands, etc.; but when the people examine [illegible] properly, they will repudiate such [illegible]. The Democrats raised these questions only a few [illegible] before the elections, and as they [illegible] plausible in themselves, and there was not time for full discussion, no doubt that party profited by the disreputable dodge. But it cannot [illegible] their purpose again.

A [illegible] of the Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican, writing from [illegible], Oregon, says that this State was "only lost to the raging Democracy in 1866 by a very objectionable ticket, which represented all [illegible] at the polls." The writer of this letter, (whom we could name if we chose) is a Democrat who once played a leading part in the politics of Oregon. No doubt the vast majority of that party, whom the ticket of last year perfectly suited, will feel obliged to the "conservative" or "war" Democrats, for such utter [illegible].

NAVY YARD AT PUGET SOUND.—The Bulletin makes mention of a current rumor that officers are engaged in selecting a site for a Navy Yard at [illegible] point on Puget Sound. That paper also [illegible] that parties of ship-builders and fishermen from the Eastern States are about to make locations on the Sound with a view to business.

The statement of the national debt on the first of November showed a increase in the debt of $13,774,961, since October 1st. The principal has been diminished nearly $300,000,000 since September, 1865; and yet the croakers and repudiators say the debt will never be paid, and that the "party in power," has no intention of paying it!

Henry Ward Beecher has run his novel into the war of the rebellion. His characters, male and female, were, at last accounts, in the capacity of officers, soldiers, hospital nurses, mule drivers, and so forth, making their way with all haste to Gettysburg.

The following is the vote of Ohio on the proposed amendment to establish impartial suffrage. For the amendment, 216,987, against the amendment, 255,340. Majority against it, 38,353.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO DECEMBER 2.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—A Times special says it is now definitely known that Commissioner Rollins intends to resign. This action has been long contemplated as the result of the present pressure.

Gen. Hancock's order on taking command at New Orleans declares that the military power should cease and leave the civil administration to resume its natural functions. Habeas corpus will be respected. It is believed to indicate that he will depart from Sheridan's course and possibly revise some of the latter's official acts.

A court martial has sentenced Gen. Custer to be suspended from rank and pay for one year. Gen. Grant has approved the sentence.

Greeley declines the Austrian mission. The President has signified his intention to nominate [illegible] as Minister to Mexico.

Mr. Johnson's Message.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Commercial's special says the President's message is moderate and conciliatory, but argues that the Congressional plan of reconstruction is a failure that the country has pronounced against it and the elections. Economy and retrenchment and uniform taxation are advocated.

The Post Office Report.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—The Postmaster General's report gives details respecting ocean mail service. The demands of the Cunard line have been exorbitant. The Government has been paying the last six years from $160,000 to $300,000 in gold, over the receipts, to the English government—the amount we have been compelled to pay under the old Treaty which expires in January next. The Postmaster-General refused to renew the contract, and two other lines have entered into a contract agreeing to transport all foreign letter mail for fifteen cents an ounce, making each letter cost five cents; books four cents; papers, etc., six cents per pound; payable in currency, giving three mails weekly.

The report shows an unexpected balance of $70,000 available for the current year. It is estimated that the deficiency for 1869, will be $350,000.

About Paying for Alaska.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—The Chicago Journal's special says several members of the Committee on Appropriations are opposed to any appropriation to pay for Alaska, and that the bill will be fiercely opposed in Congress.

Currency Report.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The report of the Comptroller of Currency shows that since the first National Bank was organized in October, 1863, ten banks had failed with an aggregate capital of $1,800,000. Their aggregate liabilities are little less than $1,200,000. The country will suffer no loss on circulation. Their assets will realize enough to pay creditors per cent, so the total ultimated loss to the public will be about $1,000,000. The failures in most cases are traced to incompetency or dishonesty of bank officers and to the habitual violation of the plainest provision of the banking law.

New Jersey Railroad.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Court of Appeal of New Jersey has finally decided that the Camden & Amboy Railroad Co.'s business may be interfered with by the Delaware & Raritan Railroad Co., which built a connecting line and share the monopoly of running trains between Philadelphia and New York.

The Indians.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—A dispatch from North Platte says Spotted Tail and 500 Indians are there awaiting the Commissioners. The northern Indians are still belligerent. Sutler teams with an escort of forty peaceful Indians were attacked near Ft. Phil Kearney, by Red Cloud and band and two men killed. The Indians run off six wagons, with $20,000 worth of goods. On the 18th fourteen Indians came within two miles of Fort Laramie, and run off seventy head of horses. The troops followed but were unable to overtake them.

Southern News.

RICHMOND, Nov. 30.—The colored Republicans held a meeting last evening and passed resolutions requesting John Minor Botts, Gov. Pierpont and others to call a State Convention of white Republicans to assist and direct the negro Republicans in carrying the election for the ratification of the Convention's Constitution.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 30.—The Convention is certainly defeated, the total vote for it being short of the requisite majority of registered votes.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 29.—The Constitutional Convention ordinance giving the Legislature power to disfranchise rebels who have aided in reconstruction was reported from the committee for consideration. It was postponed till to-morrow.

The Governor has granted eight divorces to-day, and [illegible] one suit for bigamy.

The ordinance reported, which declares void all marriages of whites with freed negroes and requiring the Legislature to prescribe severe penalties against such marriages, [illegible] able discussion. It was tabled until Saturday.

An ordinance was passed declaring valid all special acts of public officers under the military authorities.

MONTGOMERY, Nov. 30.—The Convention passed the ordinance to organize a volunteer militia. It authorizes one [illegible] thousand votes. All the officers are to be appointed by the Governor and to be of known loyalty. There will be a great many officers with heavy [illegible].

An ordinance was passed declaring all State liabilities contracted directly or indirectly in aid of the rebellion null and void.

Miscellaneous.

OTTAWA (C. W.), Nov. 30.—A resolution will be introduced on Monday, which provides for a memorial to the Queen for the annexation of Rupert's Land, of the northwest territory, to the dominion of Canada.

[illegible], Nov. 30.—A Coroner's Jury to consider the [illegible] on the Hamilton and Dayton Railroad has returned a verdict that the [illegible] was caused by gross neglect of duty on the part of certain employees.

[illegible], Nov. 30.—The weather has turned bitter cold and severe gales have been prevailing on the lake. Several disasters to vessels are reported.

From Havana.

HAVANA, Dec. 1.—The Austrian frigate Novara has arrived with the remains of Maximilian. The people assembled en masse along the road, but no demonstration was permitted. The body was not permitted to be seen in the coffin. The physician who embalmed the body, mutilated it by cutting off the hair and taking the clothes for a relative purpose.

A letter from St. Thomas, Nov. 23th, says another earthquake, accompanied with violent eruptions, has occurred. The sea rose fifty feet, doing much damage to shipping and causing much loss of life.

Maximilian's Affairs Settled.

HAVANA, Nov. 29.—Private accounts from Mexico say that Admiral Tegethoff has settled all the personal accounts of Maximilian, including quite a number of important [illegible].

Central America News.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Ex-Senator Foster will probably be appointed Minister to Austria.

The Henry Chauncey from Aspinwall, November 22d, has arrived. The steamship Nevada reached Panama, November 21st, forty one and one-half days from [illegible].

Advices from Bogota are to October 16th. The trial of Mosquera [illegible]. The demonstration of sympathy for Mosquera compelled the President of the Senate on several occasions to have the spectators removed. [illegible] was constantly guarded by soldiers, to prevent an attempt at rescue by Mosquera's friends.

The [illegible] Government is in a dangerous position, several States having entered a protest against interference by the [illegible] Government in affairs of the State of Tolima. The press of the State of Cauca openly speaks of severing its connection with the Federal Government, and [illegible] itself independent.

[illegible] from the State of Antioquia arrived with a proposition to arrange a common line of action in case Acosta continued his unconstitutional meddling with the sovereignty of the States.

A new revolutionary force has arisen in favor of Footi as, with whom it is feared Antioquia and Cauca would make common cause, and a bloody civil war would ensue. Troubles seem brewing in other sections of the Republic.

Congress has withdrawn the annual subvention of $600,000 to the State of Parma.

The annual budget shows a deficiency of over $2,000,000 for current year. Over $300,000 has been expended in two [illegible] of the $1,000,000 paid to Government on ratification of Panama Railroad contract.

A new guano deposit has been discovered in Chili, between Caldil and Parto Lagila.

Some exiled Spaniards have returned to Callao. The [illegible] is determined to annul the decree of banishment except of those who have been in hostility to the Republic.

Peru proposed representatives of four governments allied against Spain to meet annually to deliberate upon [illegible] or to maintain and strengthen the confederacy.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—The citizens of the United States celebrated Thanksgiving Day with a banquet in the evening.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—Additional particulars of the explosion of the steamer Bouboulina at Liverpool yesterday are given. The steamer belonged to the Grecian Government and was built by Fraser Trenholm & Co., for the Confederates. The explosion happened at six o'clock in the morning. There were 137 persons aboard, and it is thought at least 30 were killed. The steamer had a large quantity of arms and ammunition on board for the Grecian Government.

The Cunard Line receives £500,000 annually for carrying the British mail once a week between New York and Liverpool.

The proposed Abyssinian war has passed its second reading in the House of Commons.

Warren Halpin and Costello the Fenians sentenced at Dublin were brought to Pentonville to undergo their sentences of imprisonment.

BERLIN, Nov. 29.—A large meeting was held yesterday, at which American politics and finances were discussed. T. S. Day an American severely attacked Thad. Stevens as a demagogue. He repudiated all desire that his views were those of the American people.

FLORENCE, Nov. 30.—A dispatch from Naples to-day, says Vesuvius is now in a grand state of eruption.

Italy has not yet acceded to the proposed conference. Yesterday an official note was sent to France asking explanations. The final answer of Italy will depend on the nature of Napoleon's reply.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—Monsieur, Minister of Foreign Affairs, in addressing the Senate yesterday said the stay of French troops in Roman territory will be brief. The question between Italy and the Pope is one of distrust and the object of the general conference proposed by the Emperor was to remove this distrust.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—On Friday the Pacific Powder Mills, 12 miles from San Rafael, Marin county were destroyed by a terrible explosion. Three men were killed. Their names were T. L. Frant, Acting Superintendent, Spratt and McDonald. There were three distinct explosions, but the cause is still unknown. James Flannagan who was in the mixing mill says the first intimation he had of the explosion was a sudden loud report shaking the earth and building the house he was in to atoms, which threw him a considerable distance into the air, and he landed upon his back. When opening his eyes he saw a sudden flash and was again born through the air a considerable distance landing upon a large stump where he found himself in a blaze. He escaped with a few bruises and burns none of which are very severe.

The steamer Golden Gate sailed yesterday for Panama with 378 passengers and $1,188,660 in treasure.

Among the passengers booked, was the Japanese troupe who recently played an engagement here. After the steamer was hauled out into the stream it was discovered that a portion of the troupe had been left on the wharf. The chief Japanese immediately informed Capt. Tapliga that the missing Japanese must be taken on board or he would perform harri karra, or the Japanese disembowelling operation upon Tapliga himself at the same time going through motions with the back of his sword. Capt. [illegible] rated with and ordered the whole troupe sent on [illegible], which was done. It appears that the chief Japanese is responsible to the extent of his life for the safe return of his company to Japan. The missing members were endeavoring to escape from his control.

A clean sweep is to be made of all deputies in different offices. All intendants have not been made public yet, but it is known that the [illegible] will be under Sheriff. In the County Clerk's office a number of the present officers will be retained. Maj. Harvey retains the clerkship of the County Court. Edward Conway, late of the Surveyor's office will be duly Assessor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Gold in New York at 3 P. M. to-day was 138¾, a decline of ¾ per cent since Saturday. Sterling [illegible]. Legal tenders have declined [illegible] buying and [illegible] selling.

California wheat was quoted in [illegible] on Saturday evening at [illegible]. This morning the market there opened at [illegible] but at [illegible] to-day the prices dropped [illegible]. The price at the decline [illegible] is the selling rate.

Government securities closed in New York to-day at 107¾, for 20's and 105¼ for 7-30's. Pacific Mail 100¾. California flour was quoted in New York this afternoon at $13 25 and wheat at $[illegible] 00 steady.

Henry L. Nelson has commenced an action of ejectment in the Circuit Court against S. L. Dewey and Michael Reese et al to recover possession of a lot and building known as the [illegible] Adams & Co. property on Montgomery street, occupied by S. P. Dewey and a National Insurance Co., opposite W. F. & Co.'s office, for $200,000—damages for rents and profits.

A quantity of jewelry valued at $3,000 which was stolen from a pawnbroker's shop some time ago, was found Saturday evening by the detectives secreted in sand hills. Two men were arrested for committing the robbery.

A new weekly literary journal called the Golden City, made its appearance last Saturday. A manuscript journal issued by the party sent out to Alaska by the Western Union Telegraph Company in the winter of 1866, has been published and is for sale.

The new city officers have been duly installed in their places. A general change of subordinates has been made.

SEVERAL GENTLEMEN ELECTED to the Legislature of Washington Territory left this morning for Olympia in good spirits and very sanguine to carry their different points. Those that have bought their nice and well fitting suits of KOHN & FISHEL will certainly make a good impression and will convince our Washington Territory friends that the only and best place to buy Clothing as well as Dry Goods is at KOHN & FISHEL'S, No. 91 Front street.

Buchtel's Photograph Gallery is the only establishment in Oregon that is thoroughly prepared to do all the different styles of work in the art. Photographs from card to life size. The new cabinet cards &c. &c. Small pictures enlarged (retouched in India ink—painted in water-colors or oil by Mrs. S. J. Rumsey. Pictures that are fading can be reproduced in this way. All negatives taken in this gallery will be carefully preserved, and additional copies had. I have now on hand a very large collection of negatives the names of which are recorded alphabetically in a book for that purpose that can be seen in the reception room.

GLORIOUS NEWS FOR THE MILLION!

ANNUAL GRAND OPENING
SANTA CLAUS' BUDGET!
BOOK STORE!
WHERE MY HEAD-QUARTERS!
HAVE BEEN ESTABLISHED
For the Past Six Years.
and where
I WILL HOLD MY ANNUAL CARNIVAL
DURING THE COMING HOLIDAYS!
MY BUDGET FOR THIS SEASON
COMPRISES
THE LARGEST STOCK!
with
THE HANDSOMEST GOODS!! and
The Cheapest Prices!
AND THAT ALL MAY OBSERVE
The Christmas and New Years'
HOLIDAYS!
I herewith issue my Annual PROCLAMATION!!!

I've come my dear people, among you once more
Keeping up the good custom established of yore
I bid you all welcome! I wish you good cheer—
A right merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
You will find me this year, as you have heretofore
At McCormick's on Front street—the Franklin Book Store
Where I've opened my Budget, 'twas filled to the brim
With every nice Toy that could talk, walk or swim
I've Musical Work Boxes—and Guitars for the fair
And Gifts for the Gents that are both rich and rare,
Whilst my Budget includes the nicest new Toys
Intended as Gifts to good Girls and Boys!
I've the Ark in which Grandfather Noah was kept
When all other creatures from the world were swept,
(For men in those days would in evil persist,
So the world was washed by an Oregon mist!)
I've Babies of Rubber of wax and of leather,
(They were all made to order), and well put together,
I've Vases and Cups nicely gilded outside,
And little Rock. Horses for Bobbies to ride
I've Cannon and Pistols which cannot explode
For the reason they hold neither wadding or load
I've steamboats that run—you just wind them in front
And they'll beat the Cascade or the Wilson G. Hunt.
I've a new Locomotive—It can never explode,
'Twas built for the use of Gaston's Railroad,
I've Engines that play—Set them down on the floor
And they'll throw greater streams than old '2' or new '4.'
I've Furniture, Fiddles, and French Fusiliers
Soldiers that look like B B Pioneers.
I've Swords made of tin—Guns and Pistols as well,
And the new kind of Drum that rings like a bell.
I've Marbles of all sizes. I've Grace Hoops, galore,
And you'll find at McCORMICK'S a thousand Toys more,
On FRONT STREET the Store is—108,
Where TOYS are as plenty as bees 'n a hive;
Go there and buy them—this is my request,
His Prices are Low and his Stock is the Best.

{L S} Given at my Palace in Wonderland, this 30th day of the eleventh month being the first year of the reign of George the Third in Webfoot.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION.—The election yesterday, for Chief Engineer and two Assistant Engineers of the Fire Department, took place without anywhere near the usual amount of spirit. Of nearly 300 votes belonging to the Department, only 137 were cast. The following is the general result:

FOR CHIEF ENGINEER

W. H. Wood received	136
A. B. Hallock "	1

FOR ASSISTANT ENGINEERS.

W. O. Bruen	96
F. M. Arnold	65
Wm. H. Wetzell	64

Mr. Wood is therefore elected Chief Engineer for the ensuing year. Messrs. Bruen and Arnold having the highest votes respectively for Assistant Engineers, are elected—the former, 1st Assistant, having received the greater number of votes, and the latter as 2d Assistant.

ST. ANDREWS SOCIETY.—Almost every city and town of any considerable size in the United States, in which there are many persons of Scotch birth, has its Society named in honor of Scotland's patron Saint, St. Andrews. The anniversary of St. Andrews' Day occurs on the 30th of November, and the societies always hold their regular annual meetings on that day. The proceedings are in the nature of a festival, though mostly intellectual and entirely rational—toasts, responses, addresses, social conversation, etc. Until this year, no attempt has ever been made in this city, so far as we know, to organize a St. Andrews' Society, though there are several of them in California and in British Columbia. A few of the residents of Portland, of Scottish birth, met together on Saturday evening, the 30th ult., for the purpose of taking the preliminary steps to an organization of a society. The object was not altogether accomplished, but will be in the course, probably, of a few weeks. A gentleman who participated, informs us that the evening was passed very pleasantly in the usual way. The prospect is very flattering for the eventual success of the organization.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—Proceedings at Chambers, Monday, December 2d.

D. Dick vs. C. R. Hamilton, et al; opinion by the Court; order entered that the Clerk be appointed special master to take proof &c. and report on the 1st Monday in July next.

John R. Lamb et al vs P. A. Davenport et al; ordered that complainants have leave to file an amended complaint on or before the 7th inst.

James Field vs Ida Squires, set for hearing on demurrer to amend bill on 1st Monday in July next.

Proceedings in Bankruptcy.—Petition of Arthur Langell to be adjudged a bankrupt, filed; and order made accordingly.

Petition of Ira F. Powers for final discharge; heard order made granting the discharge.

Petition of Abraham Burchard for final discharge; same proceedings.

The matter of Thomas H. Farrell, involuntary bankrupt; continued till Monday, December 9th.

FLOUR—WHEAT.—A few days since the telegraph advised us of a considerable advance in wheat, at San Francisco, without any corresponding mention of flour. No explanation of this somewhat singular state of things is furnished by any of the papers received by the Montana. Private telegrams, however, in answer to inquiries as to flour state that the mills of San Francisco have manufactured and stored till they are full, and flour being dull, they have shut down, preferring that their machinery stand still awhile than to sell out their stocks at a discount on recent prices, to enable them to go on again. In the meantime shippers have taken hold of wheat and are actively sending it forward to the Eastern markets, neglecting flour almost altogether. These are the present facts in relation to wheat; but no statement as to the cause of the activity in wheat has been furnished. Dealers here are entirely at a loss to account for the sudden turn in favor of the latter product.

PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.—The Portland Philharmonic Society has resolved to give a public concert on the 27th inst., for the benefit of the Portland Library. The latter institution, a very useful one, is in need of funds for the purchase of some of the standard literary works. As the [illegible] only suffices to pay current expenses, it was thought by the managing committee, best to ask the public which has [illegible] manifested a very generous disposition toward it, for some further aid; and after mature reflection it was concluded that the Library Association would [illegible] the sum and the public would feel the subscription less, if the appeal were connected with some [illegible]. Accordingly a request was made to the Portland Philharmonic Society, to tender a public concert, the proceeds of which should be added to the Library fund. The correspondence on the subject will be found in another place in this morning's paper.

MANIFEST OF THE BARK FALKINBURG.—The following is the manifest of the Jane A. Falkinburg, which arrived late Saturday night: Smith & Davis, 13 pkges mdse; Harker & Co., 219; H. & Q., 20; E. J. Northrup & Co., 1,441; C. [illegible] W. F., Oreg. City, 20; M. & F., Oregon City, 12; P. F. V., St. Helens, 11; Dr. Wm. Biddel, [illegible] 15; A. B. At [illegible], Oak Point, 6; R. G. [illegible] 2,219; M. Hay [illegible], 116; Portland Gas Co., 150; L. Di[illegible] and F., 25; Hodge, Calef & Co., 15; Milwain & Joynt, 62; M. G. & B. Hay, 100; U. S. Q. M. Dept., 6 [illegible] wagons; McCraken, Merrill & Co., 336; Corbett & Macleay, 1,000; M. Seller, 200; A. A. Q. M., Ft. Vancouver, 12; Flavel & Co., 8; Everding & Farrell, 216.

[illegible] THE FIDELITER.—On a brief visit to the Willamette Iron Works, yesterday, we found the establishment [illegible] repairs to the boilers, boiler chimney and engine of the Fideliter. The dredger was also lying at the Co's wharf, awaiting repairs to its machinery, some of which has been lately broken. To-day, in addition to these jobs, the Co. will put a force at work upon the [illegible]'s propelling machinery, a portion of which got out of order during her late trip up. The Fideliter will probably not be ready for use under three weeks' time, but the [illegible] will not be delayed by the repairs [illegible]. The Iron Works seem to be doing excellent work and to have a plenty of it to do.

[illegible] ITEMS.—A friend [illegible] us the subjoined items from Oakland, Douglas county: The present autumn has been as delightful as any one could wish. We have had sufficient rain to enable farmers to work their lands to good advantage. Grass is excellent and will improve if the present spell of fine weather continues. Oakland is growing finely and when Douglas county is properly divided, will be the county seat.—A lodge of Good Templars was recently organized in this place and is in a flourishing condition. A large crowd assembled here to witness the foot race between [illegible] Rice and Jo[illegible] Stemmons for a purse of $50 a side, distance 100 yards. Race won by Stemmons by one foot.

[illegible] CAKE.—Our friend John [illegible], of the Oregonian, has gone and got married—or else the cake he sent us last evening was all a mistake. The inscription it bore, in crinkle-crankle [illegible] script, was what did the business in our mind: "Oregonian—Compliments of John [illegible] and wife." The [illegible], as a work of art, was very pretty—we don't know anything about the cake or John's better half, but we have no doubt of the excellence of either.

GOVERNMENT WAGONS.—The bark Falkinburg brought up and yesterday discharged six large Government freight wagons, made by C[illegible] & Kerr, at the Market street wagon manufactory, San Francisco, for the Quartermaster's Department here. They are rather substantial [illegible] wagons, but we fail to see that they are in any way superior to the same class of work done by the shops in Portland, either as to timber or quality of workmanship.

THE NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL HOUSE.—This building is approaching completion as rapidly as circumstances will allow. The carpenter work was delayed from time to time by the impossibility of getting lumber of the proper sort, when wanted. Otherwise the house would have been before now completed. The plasterers finished their work on Saturday, and the painters, under Mr. [illegible] direction, were yesterday preparing to commence putting the second coating of paint on the interior wood-work.

WILLAMETTE PRODUCE.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon City, yesterday, 560 boxes apples, 97 bbls beef, 10 cases tallow, 8 hlf bbls lard, 6 gunnies bacon, 16 hlf bbls [illegible] produce, 4 boxes do., 10 bales [illegible], 571 qr. sks flour, 407 bags wheat, 3 bbls krout, 57 rolls and pieces of leather, 2 bales woolen goods, 10 boxes eggs, 18 sks fruit.

MCCORMICK'S.—Mr. S. J. McCormick has our thanks for copy of Godey's Magazine for December, Peterson's do., Chimney Corner, Stratman's California Holiday Pictorial, Harper's and Leslie's pictorials and eastern newspapers. They came from his fresh supply received by the Montana.

BARRETT.—The readers of the popular magazines, pictorials and eastern newspapers, will find almost any of them at Chas. Barrett's News and Book Emporium, just received by the steamer Montana. We acknowledge the receipt of a liberal bundle.

COUNTY COURT—MARQUAM, JUDGE.—Judge Marquam opened the December term of the County Court yesterday morning. The only proceedings had were in the case of Riley & Co. vs D. Gully; testimony taken and the cause continued, for entry judgment, this morning.

OFF THE BAR.—The barkentine Occident was outside the Columbia bar when the steamer came in. She has a cargo of merchandise for Portland, after discharging which she will load with lumber at Westport, for the San Francisco market.

TO CONTRACTORS.—Contractors may find something to their advantage by consulting an advertisement under the head "Notice to Contractors," new to-day.

THE MONTANA'S FREIGHT.—The steamship Montana brought about 400 tons of merchandise for this city.

THE LADIES RELIEF SOCIETY will meet in the basement of the Presbyterian Church, to day at 2½ o'clock P. M.

NEW STYLES.—Mensdorffer Bros. have received a large number of new styles of hats, amongst which are the Hyde Park hat and the Marbelle hat. These are entirely new from anything ever yet introduced here. Their establishment is No. 72 Front street.

IF YOU WANT TO RENT A HOUSE call on Parrish & Atkinson, No. 14 Morrison street. They will rent you one at from $5 to $100 per month. They have some very desirable city property for sale, farms to rent and for sale on very reasonable terms.

IT HAS ARRIVED.—If you want to quit the use of tobacco, call at the office of Parrish & Atkinson and get a package of Dr. Byrne's antidote. A cure warranted or no pay.

The chivalry of Virginia, before the late election, "courted the negro vote" with untiring persistency. But the blacks did not regard the late lords of the lash who have robbed them for two centuries of the fruits of their labor, as their best friends, and accordingly declined to vote at their dictation. Alluding to this state of affairs, the Richmond Enquirer piteously exclaims "History presents no parallel of the black ingratitude which has characterized our domestics and employees in turning upon us." Now, is it not just possible that slavery was not the heavenly institution which the chivalry denominated it, and that the blacks have really very little to be thankful for to their late masters?

"AN ACKNOWLEDGED INSTITUTION."—"Brown's Bronchial Troches," are among the acknowledged institutions of the land. What would our ministers, our lecturers, our lawyers, do without these invaluable Troches? To what an amount of "ahems" and coughs and throat clearings would we all be subjected, were it not for those all-powerful and soothing lozenges? We have tried them, and they did us good."—N. Y. Waverly.

FROM MR. PITTOCK.—I have used some of Henley's Royal Balsam in my family, and think it is splendid medicine for children, as well as for grown persons. For coughs and colds I freely recommend it to the public.

Correspondence.

To the President and Members of the Portland Philharmonic Society—The undersigned, on behalf of the "Portland Library Association," respectfully request that you will give a musical entertainment for the benefit of the funds of the Library.

The Society is in need of funds and you will confer a great benefit upon a useful public institution by complying with this request.

If it meets your approbation, we would suggest an evening shortly before Christmas.

Respectfully yours,
MATTHEW P. DEADY,
P. C. SCHUYLER, JR.,
Library Committee.

Nov. 26, '67.

Messrs. Matthew P. Deady and P. C. Schuyler, Jr., Library Committee. GENTLEMEN: Your communication wherein you request the "Portland Philharmonic Society" to give a musical entertainment for the benefit of the "Portland Library Association," was considered and a resolution that a Concert be given by the Society for the purpose named, on Friday evening, December 27, 1867, was unanimously passed. Relying upon a generous public, who appreciate the excellence of your Association, we confidently hope the entertainment will result to your satisfaction. We remain, gentlemen,

Very respectfully yours,
S. J. McCORMICK, President.

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.
THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!
At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer; but while some extol it as a liniment, they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally, while others use it internally with great success, but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally. We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally, and it stands alone, unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines, and its sale is universal and immense. The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home, and it has become known in those far off places by its merits.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior goods for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very [illegible] though unwilling testimony of the counterfeits. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers
Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water; invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels;
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL, and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery exeitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

John A. Andrew

[From the New York Tribune, October 31st]

Every reader of the Tribune will learn with profound regret the startling and sad intelligence of the death of ex Governor John A Andrew, of Massachusetts He died of apoplexy, yesterday, October 31st, at 5 o'clock, P. M. Born at Windham, Maine, May 31, 1818, he had reached his fiftieth year—a period at which the pride of his friends and the patriotism of his countrymen might reasonably anticipate for him another quarter of a century of honor and usefulness Until the sudden stroke that so unexpected closed his career he had appeared hale and full of his accustomed vigor of body and mind At 9 o'clock Tuesday evening he was at his residence in Charles street, conversing with a friend and his family. Feeling premonitary symptoms of apoplexy, he requested his family to leave the room He then sent for his physicians, under whose care he remained unconscious from the time of his attack until death The distinguished ability which shone out in his administration as Governor of Massachusetts, the many sterling qualities which were summed up in his character, his social address, and the charm of his conversational powers, which were brilliant, together with his clear and forcible style as an orator, will ever remain impressed on the memories of all who knew him. Some of his State papers and public addresses, especially upon questions of finance and economy, his orations on various occasions and the stirring address of the Governors of the loyal States issued from their meeting at Altoona, Pennsylvania, in the dark hours of September, 1862, and which, emanated from his pen, will rank with the finest productions of our foremost statesmen. John Albion Andrews graduated at Bowdoin College, Maine, in 1827, at the early age of 19, and immediately entered upon the study of the law in Boston, where in 1840 he was admitted to the bar. Until the outbreak of the war he practiced his profession in that city, attaining [illegible] distinction in the fugitive slave cases of [illegible], Burns and Sims, which arose in that city under the Fugitive Slave law of 1850. From the year 1848 he was closely identified with the anti-slavery party of Massachusetts, but held no office until 1858, when he was elected a member of the State Legislature from Boston. In 1860 he was a delegate to the Chicago Republican Convention, and after voting for Seward on the early ballots, announced the change of the vote of the Massachusetts delegation to Lincoln In the same year he was elected the twenty-first Governor of Massachusetts, since the adoption of the Constitution of 1780, by the largest popular vote ever cast for any candidate. He was specially energetic in placing the militia of Massachusetts on a war footing in anticipation of the [illegible] [illegible] the Government and the seceded States. Immediately upon the President's proclamation of April 15, 1861, he dispatched five regiments of infantry, a battalion of riflemen and a battery of artillery to the defense of the Capital. Of these, the Massachusetts Sixth was the first to tread Southern soil, passing through New York, while our army [illegible] were mustering, and shedding the first blood of the war in the streets of Baltimore, where they were assailed by the mob [illegible] through that city. Governor Andrew's [illegible] dispatch to Mayor Brown, praying him to have the bodies of the slain "laid out, preserved in ice and tenderly sent forward to him at the expense of the [illegible] wealth of Massachusetts," was [illegible] both of the deep humanity of its [illegible], and of the reluctance of the North [illegible] people to believe that a terrible struggle had [illegible] in which streams of blood would flow [illegible] Andrew was equally active in raising the [illegible] contingent of the three years [illegible], and was [illegible] in his efforts to aid every provision for the comfort of our sick and wounded soldiers. He was twice re-elected Governor, and during the three terms was one of the [illegible] in impressing upon the Administration at Washington the necessity of adopting the [illegible] policy and of accepting the services of [illegible]. The meeting of Governors at Altoona [illegible], mainly at Governor Andrew's [illegible], had three objects in view, and [illegible] of the [illegible] of Emancipation. His third re-election in November, 1862, over [illegible], the Conservative candidate, was by 25,000 majority. On the expiration of this [illegible] nomination to attend to his private business, as he was unable to [illegible] the [illegible] sacrifice involved in holding the office Soon after he was tendered and [illegible] Presidency of Antioch College, Ohio He [illegible] over the First National Unitarian Convention (held in 1865), and was a leader of the [illegible] wing of the denomination, or those who [illegible] with Channing and the early [illegible] the [illegible] naturalism of Christ's birth and [illegible], as opposed by [illegible] Parker and his [illegible]. He also [illegible] society for [illegible] immigration into the South, a [illegible] which met unfortunately with little success. He [illegible] much unpopularity among his [illegible] and no little fame among his enemies, by [illegible] prohibition before a Committee appointed by the Legislature in 1867. [illegible] will have [illegible] his name with [illegible]. His leading qualities were [illegible] integrity and will. [illegible] few [illegible] men, and none nobler than John A. Andrew.

One of the [illegible] of "[illegible]"—Government.

The following from the San Francisco Dispatch [illegible] of the "[illegible]" [illegible] in that City. The proceeding is one a [illegible] in every feature that the [illegible] cannot fail to appreciate it:

We have heard of a curious circumstance which [illegible] in this city within the past [illegible], and one which shows that certain High Churchmen are not so [illegible] up in their theological [illegible] as to fail to trim their sails to every popular political [illegible]. A highly educated young woman, with just the slightest possible [illegible] of colored blood mingling in her veins, arrived [illegible] with a letter of [illegible] to the Rector of Trinity Church, from the Archbishop of Victoria. She was recommended for her Christian virtues and her religious and [illegible] traits, and was forthwith [illegible] member of the church In the [illegible] her superior qualities pointed her out as a fit [illegible] to take charge of a Sunday School class, and she was accordingly assigned to one [illegible] of Indian and "native" Californian [illegible], and those of the [illegible] of the Spanish Republics. She performed her duties faithfully, giving [illegible] satisfaction up to a few days since. One day last week she was astonished at the visit of one of the leading functionaries of the Church to her place of residence. He was evidently considerably embarrassed about commencing something he had to say, but finally mustered up courage, and remarked

"Miss L., you needn't come to Sunday school next [illegible]."

"And why not, pray?" she asked.

"Well, I don't want to argue the matter with you, you know; but you needn't come"

The teacher insisted on knowing the cause of this sudden and unexpected dismissal, and pressed the functionary for an answer. He, however, only repeated what he had said before, and sidled toward the door, exclaiming

"I don't want to have any argument about the [illegible], you know" and effects his retreat.

But it would [illegible] that the young woman was not [illegible] of that [illegible] stuff that yields to questionable authorities without good and sufficient reason. So she proceeded last Sunday to the school, as usual, and assumed her seat Her class, however, had been taken away from her; but she maintained her seat during the entire exercises [illegible], she determined to have an explanation from the [illegible] himself She proceeded to his residence, and desired to know why she had been summarily dismissed from her class.

"It's rather a delicate matter to speak about,—but you know, I presume—"

"Is it on account of my color?" she boldly inquired.

"Well, yes. You know the politicians and the elections have changed all this sort of thing, and it was criminal in the Archbishop to send you here with that letter, under the circumstances."

"Oh, it's the election and the politicians, is it?"

It was. The discarded teacher then entered into a logical series of questions with the Rector, somewhat after this fashion:

"You admit that I am competent, don't you?"

"Certainly."

"That I am a good Christian?"

"Yes."

"That I can still be a communicant of the Church?"

"Surely."

"And yet," said she, in a tone of gentle reproof, I am not to be permitted to teach poor little children their Christian duties?"

"Well, you know, the politicians, the elections," etc., and a long string of reasons here given which so tried her patience that Miss L in a moment of [illegible] exclaimed:

"That's all nonsense"

At this undignified remark, the rev gentleman rose to his feet, and pointing to the door, said, in a stately voice

"Miss L., our conversation is at an end," and the interview closed.

Comment on the above is unnecessary

The Portland Herald says "Radicalism came in, and what did we see?" To which the Jacksonville Sentinel replies "We saw Democracy go out at the back door, like a sneak thief, loaded with spoil and bloated with corruption"

The Assassination Conspiracy Traces of Accomplices in Washington, Baltimore and Elsewhere

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, in a recent letter, says that the Special Committee charged with the investigation of all the circumstances attending the assassination of President Lincoln has not been idle during the recess of Congress The following summary of partial clues obtained are, the correspondent says, based upon the authority of those who were engaged in working up and arranging the two trials already held—that before the Military Committee and the trial of Surratt

Back of the assassination lie the nefarious plans which were concocted for abduction The evidence collected on this point is not very full, but leads to the conclusion that a larger class composed possibly of prominent persons, were directly and indirectly identified in these schemes than were really implicated in the final murder Long before this the authorities obtained knowledge of what was believed to be a plot for Lincoln's abduction, and an officer on duty in the fortifications near this city was summarily dismissed for alleged complicity in the plan, to the extent, at least, of allowing a party from Washington to pass out toward Richmond through his portion of the line upon a certain night There are papers in the possession of the Government which shows a plan for the capture of Lincoln while on his way from this city to the Soldiers' Home. In this Booth, Surratt and their party figured The overpowering of the driver and of any other parties who might be in the way seems to have been intrusted to the stronger members of the band, while Surratt was to do the driving, he being considered the most skillful horseman The carriage was to be turned off the turnpike at a certain point and driven through open fields to another road

Traces of three distinct persons, other than those arrested, appear in the evidence given at the military trial Sergeant Dye, in his testimony, described a party of three conversing together, in low tones, in front of Ford's Theater on the night of the murder, one of whom was supposed to be Booth, another Surratt, and a third, "a ruffianly looked fellow" who has never been identified Little was known regarding the man who, after midnight, between two and three o'clock appeared at the Pennsylvania House with Atzeroth, took a room and left, going toward the Baltimore depot, about five o'clock the next morning He gave his name as Samuel Thomas The opinion from later developments is that his name was Young, that he was one of the principals in the plot, that prominent rebels in Baltimore were aware of his movements, and that he was first secreted by them in Baltimore the day after the murder, and subsequently was aided to escape A third unknown party appears in the evidence upon the Surratt trial. This man was on the avenue opposite Willard's with Harrold, about five o'clock in the afternoon preceding the murder. These are the persons brought out very clearly by the evidence used on either the first trial or that of Surratt. Of that which came into possession of those preparing the trials, and not made public, are the following:

Soon after midnight a cavalry picket on the Baltimore road, several miles from the city, was fired upon by a party, who kept up a scattering skirmish fire for some time, and finally drove the picket off Toward daylight it returned reinforced, and was again fired on, but the party gradually withdrew, and before daylight disappeared altogether, there were probably a dozen men in this mysterious company, and the object of the attack was supposed to be to open the Baltimore road to Surratt. There is also evidence, which, though not positive enough for legal conviction is quite convicting that a man who is known, waited by agreement near the city for Surratt, to aid him in his escape. On another part of our line outside the city a Sergeant on duty with his guard knew of the murder ten minutes after it had happened, and what rendered the matter more suspicious he had intimated a desire to his guard that parties passing on the road that night should not be stopped. This clue was for some reason not followed Numerous houses were searched, the results of which have never been [illegible] known In one of these, a well known [illegible], a rebel mail was discovered. There were also letters to and from Surratt, and one from a prominent rebel in Baltimore, introducing Surratt to the parties occupying the house as a person every way to be trusted. There was also evidence, taken which led to the belief that a certain Jay [illegible] or John M. Clestino, was one of the principals in the conspiracy, but [illegible] of him and of his participations were [illegible] vague.

So [illegible] traces were found of a previous knowledge that the President was to be [illegible] in all parts of the North, as to [illegible] the fact that many parties in the North were [illegible] at least as far as to be aware of what was contemplated. A surgeon well known and of high standing, who was connected with the enrollment in New England, wrote as follows to General Butler after the appointment of the Special Committee on Assassination

"We received a telegram about eight o'clock on the morning after the President was murdered, stating the fact. Our office was closed immediately and I went to my home, where I found the death of the President had been currently reported since noon of the day previous some ten hours before it actually occured. I traced the report to —, and then reported the fact to the Assistant Provost Marshal General. He immediately sent one of his deputies, and a large number of affidavits were taken, showing that parties here were so sure the President would be shot that the report became public some fourteen hours in advance of the sad catastrophe."

Evidence exists to show that certain parties in Mid[illegible], New York, had knowledge that the murder was to take place. A Maryland gentleman heard in New York city, in February, that Lincoln was to be assassinated at his inauguration. No clue, however, was found to the man who made the assertion. A man in York, Pennsylvania, made a bet at the time of the inauguration that the President would not live a month, and that he would be murdered A citizen of Bolivar, Missouri, predicted that Lincoln would be murdered within a few days of the time it really happened. In the above cases the names of the parties are known. The Judiciary Committee, when investigating the complicity of Jeff Davis, obtained a great deal of evidence of this sort, which has been turned over to General Butler's Committee.

The strange obstacles thrown in the way of obtaining evidence concerning Surratt's connection with the murder have raised some questions which may yet aid in unraveling the mystery. For instance, the register at one of the hotels in Elmira, covering a time when Surratt was believed to have been there, is gone. The register of another, at a time he is known to have been there, is mutilated by cutting out the record of those days. Before that time and after it is complete. The cash book and check book of a Canandaigua hotel, which has the record of the trains, rooms assigned to guests, and money paid by them, is deficient by the very leaf which would have shown Surratt's presence, and that is the only leaf gone. The trouble in discovering how Surratt got from Elmira to Baltimore, at a time when the regular trains were stopped by breaks in the road, will be recollected by those who followed the trial. It was a long time before any trace of a special train could be heard of among the officials of the railroad They even denied that any extra trains had run At length, however, it was discovered that one of the Superintendents had erased from the regular report of of trains the entire column in which was entered the movements of that special train. When this erasure was discovered, the original report of the conductor of the train was speedily produced These officials had even gone further, and in addition to destroying the record of the special train, had also altered the report of a train by which Surratt could have reached Baltimore in time to take a forenoon train to Washington.

The mule train of the Abyssinian expedition will consist of six mules to each gun—two for the gun, three for the ammunition, and one to carry twenty rockets The guns have been christened the "Lilliput Battery." They have been tried at Shoeburyness at four degrees of elevation, and send a seven pound shot two thousand yards, with six ounces of powder Further trials are to be had with a fourteen-pound shell and two ounces of powder for the purpose of testing their efficiency as mortars One thousand rounds of ammunition are sent with each gun.

A young fellow, whose better half had just presented him with a pair of bouncing twins, attended church on Sunday During the discourse the clergyman looked at our innocent friend, and said in a tone of thrilling eloquence "Young man, you have an important responsibility resting upon you." The newly fledged dad, supposing the preacher alluded to his peculiar home event, considerably startled the audience by exclaiming, "Yes, I have two of 'em"

When Dr Johnson asked the widow Porter to be his wife, he told her candidly that he was of mean extraction, that he had no money, and that he had an uncle hanged The widow replied that she cared nothing for his parentage, that she had no money herself, and though she had not had a relative hanged, she had fifty who deserved hanging They made a match of it

"Ma," said an inquisitive little girl "will rich and poor folks live together in Heaven?"

"Yes, my dear, they will be all alike there."

"Then, ma, why don't rich and poor Christians associate together here?"

The mother did not answer.

Death of a Famous Caterer —Boudro is dead! The prince of caterers, and par excellence the finest cuisine in America, quietly passed away from the living and crossed the dark river where let us hope his spirit [illegible] at rest Who [illegible] our citizens but remembers [illegible] and Boudro's [illegible] What visions of [illegible] dinners come [illegible] us as we write of him? What regrets that we ne'er shall look upon his like again! Boudro's fame was not confined to this State or this country There were epicures in Europe such men as Thackeray, and George Peabody, both of whom dined at the Lake [illegible] who pronounced him unsurpassed by any [illegible] cook For twenty two years Boudro has been identified with the Lake End first in the humble capacity of cook and then as host of the famous [illegible] restaurant, where he achieved a reputation which a Loyer or a Blot might envy We assert, without fear of contradiction that no other man has ever arrived at such perfection in the art of cooking fish Pompano were not pompano without Boudro cooked them Court bullions were tasteless unless seasoned by Boudro There was no pleasanter place to spend a summer's day than at his delightful little house near the lake where the waters of Ponchartrain washed almost up to the very door, and a cool breeze, fresh from the Gulf lent its invigorating influence, giving one a wonderful appetite for the delicious dishes which the jovial and kind hearted host always prepared for those who were his guests Boudro was something more than a genial host and accomplished cuisinier, he was passionately fond of flowers, and his large garden was well supplied with the choicest plants He never tired of adorning his residence and restaurant, which were united Twice they were swept away—once by a storm and once by fire, but with the energy which [illegible] him as a man he in both instances immediately rebuilt them upon the ruins each time rendering them more attractive and inviting Better than all, he was an honest, true man, and here we speak advisedly, for we have known and respected him for the last twenty years There are man in both hemispheres who will deplore the death of Boudro, the clever host, the famous fenseme and worthy citizen.—New Orleans Picayune.

Anna Dickinson is soon to be married One of the great attractions must be in the fact that it will not cost the husband anything to hear Anna's lectures.

THE ROYAL BALSAM!

Has now been before the public for a length of time, and wherever used is highly recommended never failing in a single instance to give permanent relief when timely used and we have never known a single case of dissatisfaction, but on the contrary, all are delighted with it and speak in the highest terms of its magical effects. The astonishing efficacy of the ROYAL BALSAM, in curing the diseases for which it is recommended entitles it to the highest rank among the list of medicines, and no family can be without it after once trying it

☞ Read the following testimonials from some of the most prominent citizens of Oregon

MIRACULOUS CURE.

Dr Henley—Dear Sir I feel it but a duty to inform you and the public what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my wife She had been affected with a severe cough for several weeks, which had assumed a dangerous feature, for which many physicians have been trying without any material benefit and all the remedies failed to give her any relief. Without relief was got I feared for the worst in her present condition The cough appeared to be worse at night she could get no rest—when Mr Randall of this place, advised me to try your Royal Balsam all other remedies having failed I concluded to try it and I purchased two bottles Strange to say, by the time I gave her three spoonfuls of the Balsam she got relief, and slept, a thing she had not done for three nights previous By the time she had taken one bottle the cough was checked Its effect was truly miraculous, as the cure was effectual hence, I have no hesitation in recommending the Royal Balsam to all who are afflicted, and it appears astonishing to me that medicine of such great merit, and I might say magical effect, is not more in use My candid opinion is if persons use it once, they never be without it in the house
Vancouver, March 1, 1867. H COCHRAN.

From Wm. Doty.

North Yamhill, July 15, 1867

Dear Dr. Henley—It is with sincere gratitude I undertake to write to you, what your Royal Balsam has done for me For the last 12 years I have been afflicted with a severe cough and what also some of the physicians called the Bronchitis, and have spent a fortune to get cured, trying all the physicians and remedies I could get to no purpose, Through the influence of my neighbors (for you have a great name with them here,) I got a bottle of your Royal Balsam and finding that it relieved me considerable I sent for a half dozen more And now after one month using it I am perfectly cured I gained ten pounds within a month and feel quite a different man I send you this for publication for the benefit of humanity that through my experience others in affliction may be relieved as I have been Yours truly
WILLIAM DOTY

From Sophia M. Holman.

Dear Dr. Henley—It is my duty to inform you and the public, what a miraculous effect your Royal Balsam had on my children. Two of them had a very bad cough and cold I got a bottle of the Royal Balsam, and gave them some at bedtime and some in the morning and that was all that was needed to cure them I was astonished at not hearing them cough again, but so it was I find if you give it in larger doses it will make the children throw up in an instant, and I think every mother ought to have a bottle of your Royal Balsam in the house, in case a child should get the croup for which it is a sure remedy as it acts like magic on children What I have seen and heard from my neighbors about the Royal Balsam I would sooner depend on it than on any prescription from any physician I have lost two children within the last year of the same disease, had I had at the time some of the Royal Balsam I am confident my dear ones would be alive now I shall always recommend it to all my friends for I consider it a blessing and Godsend to mankind.
Yours truly, SOPHIA M HOLMAN

From Drs. Bell & Parker.

We have sold a great deal of Medicine since we have been in business, and now have fifteen different kinds of Expectorants for sale But Dr Henley's Royal Balsam takes the palm from all In fact we sell six bottles of Royal Balsam to one of any other kind—and really it seems of no use to keep any other During our experience we have never seen any medicine that gives the satisfaction the Royal Balsam does, as is proven by the results daily coming in from the country of old Chronic cases when a thing else would remove the dreadful cough they had I find it is good for Bronchitis and Asthma We acknowledge it is a pleasure to sell medicine that gives such universal satisfaction
BELL & PARKER,
Druggists Oregon City

From W. F. Barber.

Dr. Henley—Dear Sir I had the Asthma for the last four years, so bad that it came near choking me I tried all the patent medicines recommended for the cure of Asthma without doing me the least good 'till I was told to try some of your Royal Balsam which on several afflicted with the same disease has performed wonders I am using it now for a week and strange to say I have not experienced anything since and I really believe that I am perfectly cured anyhow I shall never be without a bottle of the Royal Balsam in the house in case of a similar attack and I have no hesitation in recommending it to all afflicted with the same disease
I am Yours truly
W F BARBER

From J. P. Morril.

Dear Dr. Henley—I think it but justice to you that these few lines should be made known to the public for there is so much humbug going on [illegible] patent medicines and quack nostrums now a days that I had lost all faith in everything in the shape of medicine I was affected with what is called Bronchitis for the last thirty years I coughed and wheezed for an hour at a time, I tried some of the best physicians in the Atlantic States and [illegible] it was all to no purpose I could get no relief and I really thought there was no relief for me in the world I was induced to try a bottle of your Royal Balsam and it had a most remarkable effect on me and before I had used up four bottles the cough left me and I can talk as loud as anybody; my wife and neighbors don't know what to make of it My opinion is that if they knew the value of the Royal Balsam there is not a family in the country that would be without it I think there is not a better medicine in existence for Bronchitis or cough than the Royal Balsam and I can faithfully recommend it to all so afflicted to give it a fair trial
I remain yours, truly
